CHINA POWER INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT LIMITED announced the total electricity generation for the nine months ended 30 September 2004

China Power International Development Limited (the “Company”, stock code: 2380) today announced its total electricity generation for the nine months ended 30 September 2004.

According to the preliminary statistics of the Company, as at 30 September 2004, the consolidated total electricity generation of the Company and its power plants (but excluding its associated company) was 12,277.98 GWh which increased by 9.5% when compared with the same period last year. Pingwei Power Plant recorded a substantial increase in its total electricity generation by 19.5% when compared with the same period for last year, whereas the total electricity generation of Yaomeng Power Plant was more or less the same as that for the same period last year. In addition, the total electricity generation of Changsu Power Plant, the associated company of the Company, was 6,376.38 GWh which slightly increased by 5.7%.

The major reasons for the growth in the electricity generation of the Company for the nine months in 2004 include:

1. The continuous growth in the PRC economy has created a strong demand for electricity in the regions where the power plants of the Company are located;
2. The increase in the number of days of high temperature in many regions in China this summer has raised the domestic consumption of electricity; and
3. Technological improvements enhance the reliability and productivity of the generators of the Company, which secured growth in the electricity generation of the Company.

The total electricity generation for the nine months ended 30 September 2004 of each power plant and associated company of the Company is set out below:

	For the nine months ended 30 September 2004 (GWh)	For the nine months ended 30 September 2003 (GWh)
