BUSINESS REVIEW

The last twelve months have been a difficult period for Hong Kong and globally. There were the social incidents in the second half of the 2019, followed by COVID-19 pandemic together with rising international tensions. Such an operating environment brought us both challenges and opportunities. Under these circumstances, SUNeVision's data centre operations have demonstrated strong resilience and continued to meet our customers' stringent security and environmental requirements. The resilience of our network connectivity across our data centre campus has remained fully intact and operational during this critical time.

As the COVID-19 pandemic took hold, most economic activities worldwide have moved from in-person to virtual online communications, which resulted in a significant surge in data traffic and demand for a higher network performance requirement worldwide. The increased demand for global connectivity reinforced our leading market position as one of the most connected data centre hubs in Asia. The Group expects these changes in commercial and consumer behaviour to continue to drive growth for connectivity and to be reflected positively in the Group's operating performance in the coming few years.

SUNeVision's data centre business continues to be driven by two different sets of demand, both of which saw strong growth over the past year. Firstly, there is the demand for connectivity amongst both new economy players and traditional businesses. The demand for connectivity has heightened as the need for video conferencing, e-commerce, gaming and other online applications grew especially during the pandemic. Our MEGA-i data centre is by far Hong Kong's No.1 most connected ecosystem and benefitted from such developments. MEGA-i has over 14,000 cross-connects linking up hundreds of global and regional telcos, Internet Service Providers (ISPs), enterprises, cloud players and new economy players, facilitating direct and seamless data communication among them all. The majority of existing international subsea cables reaching Hong Kong are terminated in MEGA-i, making it the main data gateway between Hong Kong and the world. This demand has remained unaffected by the volatility in geo-politics, because such connectivity is fundamental in serving people's daily online needs.

The second set of demand comes from enterprises and cloud players. As businesses require more and more capacity to house their growing data, they either procure more data centre space or move to cloud. The last twelve months have seen cloud adoption taking off in Hong Kong, dovetailing what happened in other parts of the world. Our cloud customers demand high power density and resilience against any disruption, and this is what some of our facilities, MEGA Two and MEGA Plus in particular, are built for. The growth in demand for cloud services is expected to continue as they provide elevated business performance due to various benefits such as agile deployment, secure & storage management, low total cost ownership, utility-based sharing models, and high-level computing.

Chairman's Statement

SUNeVision is committed to providing the best infrastructure and services to our customers. It also believes that the growth of the data centre industry in Hong Kong is beneficial to every player. At the same time, we also strongly believe in "fair" competition. In April 2020, SUNeVision lodged an appeal against the judgment on the judicial review case regarding alleged breach of the lease restrictions by data centre operators within Tseung Kwan O Industrial Estate (TKOIE) in subletting and sharing occupation of heavily subsidised land. SUNeVision would like to stress that some TKOIE data centre operators had been operating in a way that allegedly involves subletting or permitting third parties to occupy the leased premises for some time. TKOIE land is heavily subsidised by the Hong Kong Government while SUNeVision's Tseung Kwan O data centre is built on open tender site with no restrictions on subletting and customer usage. SUNeVision can serve our customers more effectively and flexibly, and our customers will enjoy a higher degree of protection and privacy.

PROSPECTS

The future of SUNeVision remains positive. Digital economies and hence connectivity needs will continue to grow. Data traffic across and along the Pacific is expected to grow significantly, and Hong Kong will continue to be one of the key hubs for this connectivity, given its geographical location, strong subsea cable connections and well-established connections in the region. Hong Kong's long history of free trade practice and trusted data protection scheme will continue to maintain its global recognition as a distinctive location for data storage and transmission.

The robust growth in various technology trends such as cloud computing, artificial intelligence, fintech, the Internet of Things ("IoT"), big data analytics and 5G, will all continue to enrich the IT ecosystem of Hong Kong and the Asian region. The Group is well positioned to capture the opportunities against these backdrops, given the timely supply of the two new data centres and revitalisation of the existing data centres.

SUNeVision's current data centres are performing well. But what is as important is that the Group has a very robust pipeline of top-quality greenfield data centres. Constructions of the two new projects, TWTL 428 in Tsuen Wan and TKOTL 131 in Tseung Kwan O, are targeted to be completed by phases starting in 2022. Upon completion, they will double the total GFA of the Group's data centres in Hong Kong to approximately 2.8 million square feet, further reinforcing our market leading position. As TKOTL 131 is located next to our current data centre MEGA Plus, we will achieve substantial synergies in operations and infrastructure investment. Upon completion, the purpose-built data center in TKOTL 131 will support an ultra-high power of at least 120MW IT load, which will more than triple our Group's total data centre IT load. It will ensure that our customers have room for fast expansion as they grow.

As for the existing data centres, the increase of power capacity in MEGA-i by as much as 40% is on track to be completed before the end of 2020, which will be a big boost to our connectivity business growth in coming years. In addition, following the completion of the acquisition of MEGA Two in November 2019, the Group invested further in revitalising multiple floors at MEGA Two with additional power to serve the high power-density needs among customers.

APPRECIATION

I would like to close by thanking all the Directors and management, and every member of our committed staff for their dedication and hard work to support our customers during the challenging time, as well as our shareholders for their continued confidence and support.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Management Discussion and Analysis

BUSINESS REVIEW

iAdvantage

The Group's data centre business, being operated under iAdvantage, continues to be driven by strong growth in two different sets of demand, firstly demand for connectivity amongst both new economy players and traditional businesses; and secondly capacity demand from enterprises and cloud players to host their fast growing data volume. It won new business from existing and new customers, which resulted in a healthy growth in revenue during the year under review. iAdvantage is seen as the preferred data centre partner for many companies, being the largest, carrier-neutral and cloud-neutral data centre operator in Hong Kong, with world-class facilities built around the MEGA Campus (consisting of MEGA-i, MEGA Plus and MEGA Two). The customers of iAdvantage include global and regional telcos, ISPs, large multinationals and local enterprises, cloud service providers and new economy players.

During the year under review, the Group secured contracts for existing customers' further expansion and also new customers from the gaming, entertainment and social networking industries mainly at MEGA Campus. Among these three MEGA data centres, MEGA-i is one of the most connected data centre hubs in Asia, with more than 14,000 cross-connects in an ecosystem connecting hundreds of telcos, ISPs, large enterprises, cloud service providers and new economy players together. The facility is being upgraded to enhance its power capacity by as much as 40%, and is targeted to be completed before the end of 2020. This upgrade will be a big boost to the Group's connectivity business growth in coming years. MEGA Two is strategically located in Shatin, and

Construction of new projects was progressing well on track. Located near the Group's existing facilities JUMBO, the new site TWTL 428 in Tsuen Wan with approximately 200,000 square feet of gross floor area ("GFA"), and the greenfield site TKOTL 131 in Tseung Kwan O which is adjacent to MEGA Plus, with approximately 1.2 million square feet of GFA, are targeted to complete construction by phases starting in 2022. Upon completion, the has undergone revitalisation work on multiple floors to serve the increasing high power-density needs of the Group's hyperscale and cloud customers. MEGA Plus is a higher-tier flagship data centre which continues to attract strong interest from global cloud service providers and new economy players.

Management Discussion and Analysis

total GFA of the Group's data centres in Hong Kong will double to approximately 2.8 million square feet. The total IT load power capacity of the Group will more than triple, as the new TKOTL 131 site is the purpose-built data centre which will support an ultra-high power of at least 120MW IT load and will be the highest power density data centre in Hong Kong. It will ensure that our customers have room for fast expansion as they grow.

Given the timely supply of the two new data centres and revitalisation of the existing data centres, the Group is well positioned to meet the upcoming growth in demand for high-end data centre facilities in Hong Kong.

The Group was pleased to be awarded the "2019 Best IDC Provider (Overseas)" in the 14th China IDC Industry Annual Ceremony (IDCC2019), and received the "Innovative Date Centre: Silver Award" from the Communications Association of Hong Kong (CAHK) STAR Awards 2019. These awards are a recognition of the Group's outstanding data centre infrastructure and services, and its leading position in the region. It will continue to differentiate itself from other providers by offering world-class facilities, renowned connectivity and ecosystems, and high-quality services. The Group was also delighted to have multiple new equity research firms initiating coverage on its business during the year under review.

Super e-Technology and Super e-Network

Super e-Technology secured contracts for the installation of Extra Low Voltage ("ELV") and IT systems totalling HK$134 million during the year under review. Super e-Technology is constantly exploring opportunities to enhance its service offerings and maintains a positive outlook for the ELV sector for the coming financial year.

Super e-Network continued to work with broadband and network service providers to expand its service offerings. It has been actively pursuing new opportunities to expand its broadband and Wi-Fi solutions to different sectors.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Review of operating results

During the year under review, the Group's revenue from continuing operations increased 10% year on year to HK$1,714 million, driven mainly by growth in business with existing customers and signing up new customers for the core data centre business. The cost of sales increased by 6% year on year to HK$722 million, largely because of higher depreciation charges and operating costs from more data centre facilities in use, which was partly offset by net savings from the acquisition of the MEGA Two facility ("MEGA Two") on 6 November 2019. Following the acquisition, excluding the impact of adopting HKFRS 16 "Leases" which resulted in a reclassification of rental expenses to depreciation and interest expenses, the savings in rental expenses for MEGA Two were higher than the additional depreciation charges associated with the acquisition. Operating expenditure increased 16% year on year to HK$141 million, mainly because of more resources deployed in the management and sales team to promote sales and marketing of the data centre facilities and the upgrade of business support systems. Operating profit for the year from continuing operations rose 11% year on year to HK$863 million.

Management Discussion and Analysis

EBITDA from continuing operations increased 18% year on year to HK$1,186 million, driven mainly by EBITDA from the data centre business. The EBITDA margin from continuing operations rose to 69% from 64% in the previous year. Excluding the impact of adopting HKFRS 16 "Leases", EBITDA from continuing operations increased by 15% year on year to HK$1,158 million.

Finance costs rose 44% year on year to HK$36 million mainly because of the Group's increased bank borrowings to finance the upgrade of its data centre facilities and the acquisition of MEGA Two, as well as for general working capital purposes.

Underlying profit attributable to owners of the Company, increased 6% year on year to HK$709 million. Underlying profit from continuing operations, rose 11% year on year to HK$694 million. The connected transactions, involving the acquisition of MEGA Two and the disposal of the investment properties at Millennium City 1 and Kodak House II, which were completed on 6 November 2019, had an insignificant effect on the underlying profit, after taking into account the net savings in cost of sales and additional financing costs associated with the acquisition of MEGA Two. This mostly offset the loss of rental income from the disposed investment properties. As such, this was a beneficial transaction for the Group in view of the asset quality of MEGA Two and greater flexibility over the property to fulfil the requirements of long-term leasing of customers.

Capital Investment

The recent acquisition of MEGA Two will enable the Group to have more control over the property and greater flexibility to add power for high power-density needs customers and to fulfil the requirements of long-term leasing of customers. The revitalisation of MEGA-i and the new site developments of TWTL 428 and TKOTL 131 will enhance and expand the Group's high-tier data centre capacity to meet the increasing data demand. Data centre business is a capital-intensive industry, requiring long-term capital investment. The Group is committed to continuing investment in existing and new infrastructure for new business development, as well as regularly reviews its investment profile to take into account of the changing customer and market environment.

Other financial discussion and analysis

The Group had HK$402 million cash on hand as of 30 June 2020, while long-term bank borrowings were HK$5,816 million. Total net bank borrowings increased 26% to HK$5,414 million compared to HK$4,285 million as at 30 June 2019. The increase was mainly due to financing of capital expenditure to upgrade data centre facilities, build up new sites, acquisition of MEGA Two (net of the sale proceeds from the disposals of investment properties), and general working capital requirements. The shareholder's loan was HK$3,300 million as at 30 June 2020, which was an unsecured 6-year fixed interest rate term loan from SHKP Group at a fixed interest rate of 4% per annum. Effective from 1 August 2020, the interest rate was amended from 4% per annum to 3% per annum.

The gearing ratio as of 30 June 2020 was 202%; if excluding the long-term unsecured shareholder's loan of HK$3,300 million from SHKP Group, such ratio was 126%. In December 2019, the Group obtained a HK$3,000 million 5-year term and revolving loan facility from a bank to refinance the short-term bank borrowing due in January 2020 and to fund various existing data centre projects.

The Group has a strong financial position to fund its growth plans in the medium term, taking into account the financial resources available including internally generated funds, available banking facilities and the shareholder's loan from SHKP Group.

As of 30 June 2020, the Group had no contingent liability while the Company had an aggregate of HK$5,908 million contingent liabilities in respect of guarantees for general banking facilities utilised by the Group's subsidiaries and other guarantees. The Group's core operations are based in Hong Kong and its assets are primarily in Hong Kong or US dollars. It had no significant exposure to foreign exchange rate fluctuations. The Group had not pledged any of its assets as of 30 June 2020. On 6 November 2019, the Group completed the connected transactions with SHKP Group, comprising the acquisition of the company owning the MEGA Two facility in Sha Tin from SHKP Group at a consideration of HK$2,243 million and the disposals of two companies owning the properties at Millennium City 1 in Kwun Tong and Kodak House II in North Point to SHKP Group at a total consideration of HK$1,808 million.

EMPLOYEES

The Group employed 358 full-time employees as of 30 June 2020, whom the Group regards as its most valuable asset. In light of the COVID-19 situation, the Group implemented measures to safeguard the well-being of its employees, including work-from-home and flexible working hour policies, while ensuring the highest service standards to customers are maintained.

With continuous learning entrenched in the corporate culture to support business growth, the Group is dedicated to fostering lifelong learning and organisational development through staff training. The Group offers extensive opportunities for learning, competitive remuneration and appealing career prospects to help enrich and develop the careers and personal lives of its employees.

Periodical reviews of the fringe benefits, including medical coverage and Mandatory Provident Fund contributions, were conducted to maintain the Group's competitiveness in the employment market. Share options were granted to selected directors and employees to recognise their significant contribution and to help ensure talent retention. To enhance staff communication and team spirit, various engagement and culture development initiatives were carried out regularly.

In addition, Mr. Wong Kai-man (being one of the Retiring INEDs) has served the Company for more than nine years, and the Nomination Committee considered that his long service will not affect his exercise of independent judgment and was satisfied that he has the required integrity and experience to continue fulfilling the role of an Independent Non-Executive Director.

RISK MANAGEMENT AND INTERNAL CONTROL

The Board is responsible for maintaining sound and effective systems of risk management and internal control, which include financial, operational and compliance controls, to safeguard the Group's assets and Shareholders' interests, as well as for reviewing the effectiveness of such systems. Sound and effective systems of risk management and internal control are designed to identify and manage the risk of failure to achieve business objectives.

The Group has formulated and adopted a risk management policy (the "Policy") that depicts the systems to effectively identify, assess, mitigate, report and monitor key business risks across all business units. The "Top-Down" approach is adopted in the Policy, which is facilitated by strong oversight exercised by the Board, the Audit Committee, the Risk Management Taskforce (the "RMTF") and senior management in the establishment and maintenance of the Policy, framework and program. At least on an annual basis, the RMTF identifies risks that would adversely affect the achievement of the Group's objectives, and assesses and prioritises the identified risks according to a set of standard criteria. Risk owners are assigned for different risks and mitigation plans are then formulated by risk owners for those risks considered to be significant.

Principal Risks and Uncertainties

The following are the key risks that are considered to be of most significance to the Group at this time. They may adversely impact the Group's businesses, financial conditions, results of operations and growth prospects if they are not managed effectively. These key risks are not comprehensive, and there may be other risks, in addition to those set out below, which are not known to the Group or which may not be material now but could turn out to be material in the future.

Key risks related to the Group's businesses and to the industries in which the Group operates include:

Progress of Construction Project due to COVID-19 Supply Chain Impact – The Group's operation depends on its ability to produce data halls inventory on time to meet market demand in order to maintain the market share. However, the COVID-19 outbreak may disrupt the logistics supply chain of the construction project.

Competition – The Group operates in markets and industries with competition from the local and overseas rivals, which has led to pricing pressure and increased marketing costs. The Group has operated in this competitive landscape for a few years and has had to adapt its business strategies in light of the changed market conditions.

Cyber Security – Cyber-attacks have become a major threat to companies operating in today's IT environment. Cyber-attacks may affect the performance of network and the Group's ability to provide services to customers according to committed service levels. Sensitive business or personal data may be leaked or even lost due to cyber-attacks or by careless/malicious staff.

Political Stability – On a global level, US-China Trade War has already created uncertainty and gradually affected many different kinds of businesses in Hong Kong. This might have ripple effect to some of the Group's customers and create uncertainty to the Group's business in future.

Mitigating Principal Risks Faced by the Group

The risk management and internal control systems have been designed to operate proactively to ensure that principal risks are not only identified, measured and monitored but also mitigated. Under such systems, management staff of various departments would identify suitable internal controls and countermeasures to mitigate principal risks faced by the Group. When formulating mitigating measures, important factors such as regulatory requirements, risk appetite, adequacy and effectiveness of mitigating actions proposed, risk owners in place to implement and possibility of transferring risks to third parties were taken into consideration. The objective of these risk mitigating plans is to ensure that principal risks are well managed and governed effectively.

Corporate Governance Report

The risk management process is embedded into the day-to-day operations of the Group and is an on-going process carried out by everyone in the Group. Key procedures are being established and implemented to ensure that there are appropriate and effective risk management and internal control systems which includes (a) setting core values and beliefs which form the basis of the Group's overall risk philosophy and appetite; (b) having an organisational structure in place with defined lines of responsibility and delegation of authority which hold individuals accountable for their risk management and internal control responsibilities; (c) imposing an organisational structure which provides necessary information flow for risk analysis and management decision-making; (d) imposing budgetary and management accounting controls to efficiently allocate resources and providing timely financial and operational performance indicators to manage business activities and risks; (e) ensuring effective financial reporting controls to record complete, accurate and timely accounting and management information; and (f) expanding the roles and responsibilities of the Audit Committee to include the review of risk management and internal control systems.

In addition, the Group has an Internal Audit Department which is responsible for performing independent reviews on the effectiveness of the Group's risk management and internal control systems. Deficiencies in the design and implementation of such systems are identified and recommendations are proposed for improvement. Significant internal control deficiencies are reported to the RMTF, the Audit Committee and the Board on a timely basis to ensure prompt remediation actions are taken.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 30 June 2020, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards ("HKFRSs") issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing ("HKSAs") issued by the HKICPA. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the "Code"), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter

Capitalisation and measurement of costs of property, plant and equipment

We identified the capitalisation and measurement of costs of property, plant and equipment as a key audit matter due to the significance of the balance to the consolidated financial statements as a whole, combined with the judgments required in applying the criteria for capitalisation in accordance with HKAS 16 "Property, Plant and Equipment" and HKAS 23 "Borrowing Costs".

The judgment involved includes assessing the costs whether it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the items will flow to the Group in accordance with HKAS 16.

The Group's properties in the course of construction for production, supply or administrative purposes (i.e. construction in progress) are carried at costs, less any recognised impairment loss. Costs include construction costs, professional fees, and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalised in accordance with the Group's accounting policy.

As disclosed in note 15 to the consolidated financial statements, the addition of the Group's property, plant and equipment amounted to HK$1,447,208,000, including addition of construction in progress amounted to approximately HK$1,430,881,000.

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

Our procedures in relation to the capitalisation and measurement of costs of property, plant and equipment included:

- Understanding the management processes relating to the approval of, construction contracts and construction payments for purchase of property, plant and equipment, management's review of capitalisation of construction costs and borrowing costs, and determination of budgeted costs to complete and estimated accruals for the construction costs at the end of the reporting period;
- Reviewing the progress of construction in progress by referencing to the project timetable, independent architect/engineers' reports (if applicable) and the latest budgets and discussing with management the current status of the construction, including the costs incurred to date, the remaining critical milestones and estimated costs to complete including contract claims, and the assessment of the financial implications to the Group;
- Reassessing the appropriateness and reperforming the calculations of borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation into construction in progress with reference to HKAS 23; and
- Checking the amounts of acquisition costs and construction costs incurred for property, plant and equipment during the year and reassessing the nature of the costs incurred and their future economic benefits associated with the costs, on a sample basis, by reference to the suppliers' invoices, interim certificates certifying the value of work performed and other supporting documents.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with our agreed terms of engagement, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSA's will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSA's, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matter communicated with those charged with governance, we determine that matter that was of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and is therefore the key audit matters. We describe this matter in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in the independent auditor's report is Sze Ching Yiu.

* Less than HK$1,000

Note:

Pursuant to an ordinary resolution in relation to the bonus issue of shares (with a Convertible Note alternative) passed at the extraordinary general meeting of the Company held on 1 November 2010, 311,191,645 bonus shares of HK$0.1 each were issued on 25 November 2010 on the basis of one bonus share for every existing share held by the shareholders of the Company whose names appeared on the register of members of the Company on 1 November 2010.

Reserve arising from issuance of convertible notes was then capitalised from the Company's share premium account for the purpose of issue of new shares upon conversion of the Convertible Notes. This reserve balance represented the aggregate amount of the Convertible Notes outstanding at the year end. The Convertible Notes in the amount of HK$50.00 (2019: HK$50.00) were exercised and converted into 500 (2019: 500) ordinary shares by noteholders during the year ended 30 June 2020. As a result, the Convertible Notes in the amount of HK$172,001,633.30 (2019: HK$172,001,683.30) remained outstanding as at 30 June 2020.

The Convertible Notes are unlisted, non-transferable and irredeemable but have conversion rights entitling the noteholders to convert into an equivalent number of shares as the number of bonus shares which the noteholders would otherwise be entitled to receive under the bonus issue had the shareholder not elected for the Convertible Notes. The Convertible Notes do not carry voting rights at any general meeting of shareholders of the Company. The noteholders have the same right as the shareholders to receive dividend. The noteholders can exercise the conversion rights at any time after the issue of the Convertible Notes, subject to the terms and conditions of the deed poll constituting the Convertible Notes. The Convertible Notes were recognised as equity and are presented in reserves as "reserve arising from issuance of convertible notes".

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

For the year ended 30 June 2020

1. GENERAL

SUNeVision Holdings Ltd. (the “Company”) was incorporated in the Cayman Islands as an exempted company with limited liability under the Companies Law (1998 Revision) of the Cayman Islands and its shares are listed on the main board of The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Stock Exchange”). Its ultimate holding company is Sun Hung Kai Properties Limited (“SHKP”), a company incorporated in Hong Kong with its shares listed on the main board of the Stock Exchange and its immediate holding company is Sunco Resources Limited. The addresses of the registered office and principal place of business of the Company are disclosed in the “Corporate Information” section of the annual report. SHKP together with its subsidiaries, other than members of the Group, are hereinafter referred to as the “SHKP Group”.

The Company is an investment holding company. The activities of its principal subsidiaries are set out in note 39.

The consolidated financial statements are presented in Hong Kong dollar (“HK$”), which is same as the functional currency of the Company.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors of the Company have given careful consideration to the future liquidity of the Group in light of the fact that the Group’s current liabilities exceeded its current assets by HK$696,208,000 as at 30 June 2020. In the opinion of the directors of the Company, the Group has a number of sources of finance available to fund its operations, including internal resources, available unutilised SHKP Group’s facility, available unutilised banking facility or obtain additional financing from financial institutions by taking into account the current value of the Group’s assets which have not been pledged. Accordingly, the consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis.

3. APPLICATION OF NEW AND AMENDMENTS TO HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“HKFRSs”) AND AN INTERPRETATION

New and amendments to HKFRSs and an interpretation that are mandatorily effective for the current year

In the current year, the Group has applied, for the first time, the following new and amendments to HKFRSs and an interpretation issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (the “HKICPA”):

HKFRS 16	Leases
HK(IFRIC) – Int 23	Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments
Amendments to HKFRS 9	Prepayment Features with Negative Compensation
Amendments to HKAS 19	Plan Amendment, Curtailment or Settlement
Amendments to HKAS 28	Long-term Interests in Associates and Joint Ventures
Amendments to HKFRSs	Annual Improvements to HKFRSs 2015–2017 Cycle

Except as described below, the application of the amendments to HKFRSs and the interpretation in the current year has had no material impact on the Group’s financial performance and positions for the current and prior years and/or on the disclosures set out in these consolidated financial statements.

HKFRS 16 “Leases”

The Group has applied HKFRS 16 for the first time in the current year. HKFRS 16 superseded HKAS 17 “Leases”, and the related interpretations.

Definition of a lease

The Group has elected the practical expedient to apply HKFRS 16 to contracts that were previously identified as leases applying HKAS 17 and HK(IFRIC)-Int 4 “Determining whether an Arrangement contains a Lease” and not apply this standard to contracts that were not previously identified as containing a lease. Therefore, the Group has not reassessed contracts which already existed prior to the date of initial application.

For contracts entered into or modified on or after 1 July 2019, the Group applies the definition of a lease in accordance with the requirements set out in HKFRS 16 in assessing whether a contract contains a lease.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

For the year ended 30 June 2020

3. APPLICATION OF NEW AND AMENDMENTS TO HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“HKFRSs”) AND AN INTERPRETATION (continued)

New and amendments to HKFRSs and an interpretation that are mandatorily effective for the current year (continued)

As a lessee

The Group has applied HKFRS 16 retrospectively with the cumulative effect recognised at the date of initial application, 1 July 2019.

As at 1 July 2019, the Group recognised additional lease liabilities and right-of-use assets at amounts equal to the related lease liabilities by applying HKFRS 16.C8(b)(ii) transition. Any difference at the date of initial application is recognised in the opening retained profits and comparative information has not been restated.

When applying the modified retrospective approach under HKFRS 16 at transition, the Group applied the following practical expedients to leases previously classified as operating leases under HKAS 17, on lease-by-lease basis, to the extent relevant to the respective lease contracts:

- i. elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for leases with lease term ends within 12 months of the date of initial application; and
- ii. excluded initial direct costs from measuring the right-of-use assets at the date of initial application.

When recognising the lease liabilities for leases previously classified as operating leases, the Group has applied incremental borrowing rates of the relevant group entities at the date of initial application. The weighted average incremental borrowing rate applied is 3.00%.

	At 1 July 2019 HK$'000
Operating lease commitments disclosed as at 30 June 2019	169,401
Lease liabilities discounted at relevant incremental borrowing rates	163,059
Add: Extension options reasonably certain to be exercised	5,383
Less: Practical expedient – leases with lease term ending within 12 months from the date of initial application	(1,099)
Lease liabilities relating to operating leases recognised upon application of HKFRS 16 as at 1 July 2019	167,343
Analysed as:
Current	70,996
Non-current	96,347
	167,343

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

3. APPLICATION OF NEW AND AMENDMENTS TO HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“HKFRSs”) AND AN INTERPRETATION (continued)

New and amendments to HKFRSs and an interpretation that are mandatorily effective for the current year (continued)

The carrying amount of right-of-use assets as at 1 July 2019 comprises the following:

	Right-of-use assets HK$'000
Right-of-use assets relating to operating leases recognised upon application of HKFRS 16	167,343
Leasehold land included in leasehold properties and construction in progress	6,743,765
	<hr/> 6,911,108 <hr/>

Right-of-use assets relating to operating leases recognised upon application of HKFRS 16 in property, plant and equipment under leased properties.

As a lessor

In accordance with the transitional provisions in HKFRS 16, the Group is not required to make any adjustment on transition for leases in which the Group is a lessor but account for these leases in accordance with HKFRS 16 from the date of initial application and comparative information has not been restated.

- (a) Upon application of HKFRS 16, new lease contracts entered into but commence after the date of initial application relating to the same underlying assets under existing lease contracts are accounted as if the existing leases are modified as at 1 July 2019. The application has had no impact on the Group’s consolidated statement of financial position at 1 July 2019. However, effective on 1 July 2019, lease payments relating to the revised lease term after modification are recognised as income on straight-line basis over the extended lease term.
- (b) Before application of HKFRS 16, refundable rental deposits received were considered as rights and obligations under leases to which HKAS 17 applied. Based on the definition of lease payments under HKFRS 16, such deposits are not payments relating to the right-of-use assets and should be adjusted to reflect the discounting effect at transition. No adjustment was made as discounting effect was not material.
- (c) Effective on 1 July 2019, the Group has applied HKFRS 15 “Revenue from Contracts with Customers” to allocate consideration in the contract to each lease and non-lease components. The change in allocation basis has had no material impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Group for the current year.

The directors of the Company consider the application of HKFRS 16 as a lessor has had no material impact on the Group’s consolidated financial statements for the year ended 30 June 2020 and the consolidated statement of financial position as at 30 June 2020.

3. APPLICATION OF NEW AND AMENDMENTS TO HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“HKFRSs”) AND AN INTERPRETATION (continued)

New and amendments to HKFRSs in issue but not yet effective (continued)

In addition to the above new and amendments to HKFRSs, a revised Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting was issued in 2018. Its consequential amendments, “the Amendments to References to the Conceptual Framework in HKFRS Standards”, will be effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2020.

Except for the amendments to HKFRSs mentioned below, the directors of the Company anticipate that the application of all other new and amendments to HKFRSs will have no material impact on the consolidated financial statements in the foreseeable future.

Amendments to HKFRS 3 “Definition of a Business”

The amendments:

- add an optional concentration test that permits a simplified assessment of whether an acquired set of activities and assets is not a business. The election on whether to apply the optional concentration test is available on transaction-by-transaction basis;
- clarify that to be considered a business, an acquired set of activities and assets must include, at a minimum, an input and a substantive process that together significantly contribute to the ability to create outputs; and
- narrow the definitions of a business and of outputs by focusing on goods and services provided to customers and by removing the reference to an ability to reduce costs.

The Group will apply the amendments prospectively to all business combinations and asset acquisitions for which the acquisition date is on or after the annual reporting period beginning on or after 1 July 2020.

Amendments to HKAS 1 and HKAS 8 “Definition of Material”

The amendments provide refinements to the definition of material by including additional guidance and explanations in making materiality judgments. In particular, the amendments:

- include the concept of “obscuring” material information in which the effect is similar to omitting or misstating the information;
- replace threshold for materiality influencing users from “could influence” to “could reasonably be expected to influence”; and
- include the use of the phrase “primary users” rather than simply referring to “users” which was considered too broad when deciding what information to disclose in the financial statements.

The amendments also align the definition across all HKFRSs and will be mandatorily effective for the Group’s annual period beginning on 1 July 2020. The application of the amendments is not expected to have significant impact on the financial position and performance of the Group but may affect the presentation and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements.

Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting 2018 (the “New Framework”) and the Amendments to References to the Conceptual Framework in HKFRS Standards

The New Framework:

- reintroduces the terms stewardship and prudence;
- introduces a new asset definition that focuses on rights and a new liability definition that is likely to be broader than the definition it replaces, but does not change the distinction between a liability and an equity instrument;
- discusses historical cost and current value measures, and provides additional guidance on how to select a measurement basis for a particular asset or liability;
- states that the primary measure of financial performance is profit or loss, and that only in exceptional circumstances other comprehensive income will be used and only for income or expenses that arise from a change in the current value of an asset or a liability; and
- discusses uncertainty, derecognition, unit of account, the reporting entity and combined financial statements.

3. APPLICATION OF NEW AND AMENDMENTS TO HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“HKFRSs”) AND AN INTERPRETATION (continued)

New and amendments to HKFRSs in issue but not yet effective (continued)

Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting 2018 (the “New Framework”) and the Amendments to References to the Conceptual Framework in HKFRS Standards (continued)

Consequential amendments have been made so that references in certain HKFRSs have been updated to the New Framework, whilst some HKFRSs are still referred to the previous versions of the framework. These amendments are effective for the Group’s annual periods beginning on or after 1 July 2020, with earlier application permitted. Other than specific standards which still refer to the previous versions of the framework, the Group will rely on the New Framework on its effective date in determining the accounting policies especially for transactions, events or conditions that are not otherwise dealt with under the accounting standards.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA. In addition, the consolidated financial statements include applicable disclosures required by the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange and by the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for investment properties and certain financial instruments, that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the significant accounting policies set out below.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these consolidated financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of HKFRS 2 “Share-based Payment”, leasing transactions that are accounted for in accordance with HKFRS 16 (since 1 July 2019) or HKAS 17 (before application of HKFRS 16), and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in HKAS 2 “Inventories” or value in use in HKAS 36 “Impairment of Assets”.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant’s ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

For financial instruments and investment properties which are transacted at fair value and a valuation technique that unobservable inputs is to be used to measure fair value in subsequent periods, the valuation technique is calibrated so that at initial recognition the results of the valuation technique equals the transaction price.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

The significant accounting policies are set out below.

(a) Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the consolidated financial statements of the Company and entities controlled by the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss from the date the Group gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each item of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

Where necessary, adjustments are made to the consolidated financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies in line with Group's accounting policies.

All material intra-group assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Non-controlling interests in subsidiaries are presented separately from the Group's equity therein, which represent present ownership interests entitling their holders to a proportionate share of net assets of the relevant subsidiaries upon liquidation.

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, the assets and liabilities of that subsidiary and non-controlling interests (if any) are derecognised. A gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss and is calculated as the difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the carrying amount of the assets and liabilities of the subsidiary attributable to the owners of the Company.

(b) Acquisition of a subsidiary not constituting a business

When the Group acquires a group of assets and liabilities that do not constitute a business, the Group identifies and recognises the individual identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed by allocating the purchase price first to financial assets/financial liabilities at the respective fair values, the remaining balance of the purchase price is then allocated to the other identifiable assets and liabilities on the basis of their relative fair values at the date of purchase. Such a transaction does not give rise to goodwill or bargain purchase gain.

(c) Investments in subsidiaries

A subsidiary is an entity controlled by the Company.

Investments in subsidiaries are included in the Company's statement of financial position at cost less any identified impairment losses.

(d) Revenue from contracts with customers

The Group recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when “control” of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer.

A performance obligation represents a good or service (or a bundle of goods or services) that is distinct or a series of distinct goods or services that are substantially the same.

Control is transferred over time and revenue is recognised over time by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of the relevant performance obligation if one of the following criteria is met:

- the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group’s performance as the Group performs;
- the Group’s performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the Group performs; or
- the Group’s performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

Otherwise, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the distinct good or service.

A contract asset represents the Group’s right to consideration in exchange for goods or services that the Group has transferred to a customer that is not yet unconditional. It is assessed for impairment in accordance with HKFRS 9 “Financial Instruments”. In contrast, a receivable represents the Group’s unconditional right to consideration, i.e. only the passage of time is required before payment of that consideration is due.

A contract liability represents the Group’s obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer.

A contract asset and a contract liability relating to the same contract are accounted for and presented on a net basis.

Contracts with multiple performance obligations (including allocation of transaction price)

For contracts that contain more than one performance obligations (to specify), the Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation on a relative stand-alone selling price basis.

The stand-alone selling price of the distinct good or service underlying each performance obligation is determined at contract inception. It represents the price at which the Group would sell a promised good or service separately to a customer. If a stand-alone selling price is not directly observable, the Group estimates it using appropriate techniques such that the transaction price ultimately allocated to any performance obligation reflects the amount of consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring the promised goods or services to the customer.

Over time revenue recognition: measurement of progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation

Output method

The progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured based on output method, which is to recognise revenue on the basis of direct measurements of the value of the goods or services transferred to the customer to date relative to the remaining goods or services promised under the contract, that best depict the Group's performance in transferring control of goods or services.

Input method

The progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured based on input method, which is to recognise revenue on the basis of the Group's efforts or inputs to the satisfaction of a performance obligation relative to the total expected inputs to the satisfaction of that performance obligation, that best depict the Group's performance in transferring control of goods or services.

The Group recognises revenue under the following accounting policies:

The Group provides the use of data centre and information technology ("IT") facilities and other value-added services to its customers. Such services are satisfied over time as the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group's performance as the Group performs. Revenue from customers' use of data centre and IT facilities is recognised as time lapsed or ratably over the terms of the agreement while other value-added service income is recognised over the period of service rendered as time lapsed or based on units consumed.

The Group provides maintenance services of extra-low voltage ("ELV") and IT systems and building management services to customers. Such services are satisfied over time as the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group's performance as the Group performs. Revenue relating to the maintenance services and building management services is recognised over time as time lapsed.

The Group provides installation services of ELV and IT systems to customers. Such services are satisfied over time as the Group creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the asset is created or enhanced. Revenue is recognised for these installation services based on the stage of completion of the contract based on costs using input method.

The Group's installation contracts include payment schedules which require stage payments over the installation period once certain specified milestones are reached. The Group requires certain customers to provide upfront deposits, when the Group receives a deposit before installation commences, this will give rise to contract liabilities at the start of a contract, until the revenue recognised on the specific contract exceeds the amount of the deposit.

A contract asset, net of contract liability related to the same contract, is recognised over the period in which the installation services are performed, the rights for consideration are conditioned on the Group's future performance in achieving specified milestones. The contract assets are transferred to trade receivables when the rights become unconditional. The Group typically transfers to trade receivables once payment certificate is received.

Retention receivables, prior to expiration of defect liability period, are classified as contract assets, which ranges from one to two years from the date of the practical completion of the installation. The relevant amount of contract asset is reclassified to trade receivables when the defect liability period expires. The defect liability period serves as an assurance that the installation services performed comply with agreed-upon specifications and such assurance cannot be purchased separately.

(e) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment including leasehold properties held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes (other than construction in progress as described below) are stated at cost less subsequent accumulated depreciation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Properties in the course of construction for production, supply or administrative purposes (i.e. construction in progress) are carried at cost, less any recognised impairment loss. Costs include any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner included by management and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalised in accordance with the Group's accounting policy. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as the relevant categories of property, plant and equipment commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

Ownership interests in leasehold land and building

When the Group makes payments for ownership interests of properties which includes both leasehold land and building elements, the entire consideration is allocated between the leasehold land and the building elements in proportion to the relative fair values at initial recognition.

To the extent the allocation of the relevant payments can be made reliably, interest in leasehold land that is accounted for as "right-of-use assets" (upon application of HKFRS 16) or "prepaid lease payments" (before application of HKFRS 16) is presented as "property, plant and equipment" in the consolidated statement of financial position except for those that are classified and accounted for as investment properties under the fair value model.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of items of property, plant and equipment (other than construction in progress) less their estimated residual values over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss in which the item is derecognised.

(f) Investment properties

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation.

Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including any directly attributable expenditure. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are measured at their fair values, adjusted to exclude any prepaid or accrued operating lease income.

Gains or losses arising from changes in fair value of investment properties are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

An investment property is derecognised upon disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefits are expected from its disposals. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the property (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss in the period in which the property is derecognised.

(g) Leases

Definition of a lease (upon application of HKFRS 16 in accordance with transitions in note 3)

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

For contracts entered into or modified or arising from business combinations on or after the date of initial application, the Group assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease based on the definition under HKFRS 16 at inception, modification date or acquisition date, as appropriate. Such contract will not be reassessed unless the terms and conditions of the contract are subsequently changed.

The Group as a lessee (upon application of HKFRS 16 in accordance with transitions in note 3)

Allocation of consideration to components of a contract

For a contract that contains a lease component and one or more additional lease or non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative stand-alone price of the lease component and the aggregate stand-alone price of the non-lease components.

Non-lease components are separated from lease component and are accounted for by applying other applicable standards.

Right-of-use assets

The cost of right-of-use asset includes:

- the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability;
- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, less any lease incentives received;
- any initial direct costs incurred by the Group; and
- an estimate of costs to be incurred by the Group in dismantling and removing the underlying assets, restoring the site on which it is located or restoring the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease.

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities.

Right-of-use assets in which the Group is reasonably certain to obtain ownership of the underlying leased assets at the end of the lease term are depreciated from commencement date to the end of the useful life. Otherwise, right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of its estimated useful life and the lease term.

The Group presents right-of-use assets in "property, plant and equipment", the same line item as that within which the corresponding underlying assets would be presented if they were owned.

Refundable rental deposits

Refundable rental deposits paid are accounted under HKFRS 9 and initially measured at fair value. Adjustments to fair value at initial recognition are considered as additional lease payments and included in the cost of right-of-use assets.

Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of a lease, the Group recognises and measures the lease liability at the present value of lease payments that are unpaid at that date. In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses the incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date if the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable.

The lease payments include fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable.

After the commencement date, lease liabilities are adjusted by interest accretion and lease payments.

The Group presents lease liabilities as a separate line item on the consolidated statement of financial position.

Lease modifications

The Group accounts for a lease modification as a separate lease if:

- the modification increases the scope of the lease by adding the right to use one or more underlying assets; and
- the consideration for the leases increases by an amount commensurate with the stand-alone price for the increase in scope and any appropriate adjustments to that stand-alone price to reflect the circumstances of the particular contract.

For a lease modification that is not accounted for as a separate lease, the Group remeasures the lease liability based on the lease term of the modified lease by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the effective date of the modification.

The Group accounts for the remeasurement of lease liabilities by making corresponding adjustments to the relevant right-of-use asset. When the modified contract contains a lease component and one or more additional lease or non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the modified contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative stand-alone price of the lease component and the aggregate stand-alone price of the non-lease components.

The Group as a lessee (prior to 1 July 2019)

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

The Group as a lessor

Classification and measurement of leases

Leases for which the Group is a lessor are classified as finance or operating leases. Whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an underlying asset to the lessee, the contract is classified as a finance lease. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

Rental income from operating leases is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset, and such costs are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term except for investment properties measured under fair value model.

Rental income which are derived from the Group's ordinary course of business are presented as revenue.

(g) Leases (continued)

The Group as a lessor (upon application of HKFRS 16 in accordance with transitions in note 3)

Allocation of consideration to components of a contract

When a contract includes both leases and non-lease components, the Group applies HKFRS 15 to allocate consideration in a contract to lease and non-lease components.

Non-lease components are separated from lease component on the basis of their relative stand-alone selling prices.

Refundable rental deposits

Refundable rental deposits received are accounted for under HKFRS 9 and initially measured at fair value. Adjustments to fair value at initial recognition are considered as additional lease payments from lessees.

Lease modification

The Group accounts for a modification to an operating lease as a new lease from the effective date of the modification, considering any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to the original lease as part of the lease payments for the new lease.

(h) Foreign currencies

In preparing the consolidated financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recorded in its respective functional currency (i.e. the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates) at the rates of exchanges prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At the end of reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the translation of monetary items, are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

For the purposes of presenting the consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Group's foreign operations are translated into the presentation currency of the Group (i.e. HK$) at the rate of exchange prevailing at the end of each reporting period. Income and expenses items are translated at the average exchange rates for the year. Exchange differences arising, if any, are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity under the headings of the exchange reserve (attributed to non-controlling interests, as appropriate).

(i) Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Effective 1 July 2019, any specific borrowing that remain outstanding after the related asset is ready for its intended use or sale is included in the general borrowing pool for calculation of capitalisation rate on general borrowings. Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in consolidated statement of profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

(j) Retirement benefit costs

Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit schemes and the Mandatory Provident Fund Scheme ("MPF Scheme") are charged as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

(k) Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are recognised at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid as and when employees rendered the services. All short-term employee benefits are recognised as an expense unless another HKFRS requires or permits the inclusion of the benefit in the cost of an asset.

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees (such as wages and salaries) after deducting any amount already paid.

(l) Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profits for the year. Taxable profits differ from profit before taxation because of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profits. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profits nor the accounting profits.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilise the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset is realised, based on tax rate (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax assets and liabilities reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax for investment properties that are measured using the fair value model, the carrying amounts of such properties are presumed to be recovered entirely through sale, unless the presumption is rebutted. The presumption is rebutted when the investment property is depreciable and is held within a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment property over time, rather than through sale.

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax for leasing transactions in which the Group recognises the right-of-use assets and the related lease liabilities, the Group first determines whether the tax deductions are attributable to the right-of-use assets or the lease liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied to the same taxable entity by the same taxation authority.

Current and deferred tax are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

In assessing any uncertainty over income tax treatments, the Group considers whether it is probable that the relevant taxation authority will accept the uncertain tax treatment used, or proposed to be used by individual group entities in their income tax filings. If it is probable, the current and deferred taxes are determined consistently with the tax treatment in the income tax filings. If it is not probable that the relevant taxation authority will accept an uncertain tax treatment, the effect of each uncertainty is reflected by using either the most likely amount or the expected value.

(m) Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost of inventories is calculated using the first-in, first-out method. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale.

(n) Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value except for trade receivables arising from contracts with customers which are initially measured in accordance with HKFRS 15. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or financial liability and of allocating interest income and interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts and payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial asset or financial liability, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

(i) Financial assets

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortised cost:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at FVTOCI:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All other financial assets are subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL"), except that at the date of initial application of HKFRS 9/initial recognition of a financial asset the Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in other comprehensive income if that equity investment is neither held for trading nor contingent consideration recognised by an acquirer in a business combination to which HKFRS 3 "Business Combinations" applies.

In addition, the Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that are required to be measured at the amortised cost or FVTOCI as measured at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch.

(i) Amortised cost and interest income

Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method for financial assets measured subsequently at amortised cost and debt instruments subsequently measured at FVTOCI. Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset, except for financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired (see below). For financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset from the next reporting period. If the credit risk on the credit-impaired financial instrument improves so that the financial asset is no longer credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset from the beginning of the reporting period following the determination that the asset is no longer credit-impaired.

(ii) Debt instruments classified as at FVTOCI

Subsequent changes in the carrying amounts for debt instruments classified as at FVTOCI as a result of interest income calculated using the effective interest method, and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss. All other changes in the carrying amount of these debt instruments are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading of "investments revaluation reserve". Impairment allowances are recognised in profit or loss with corresponding adjustment to other comprehensive income without reducing the carrying amounts of these debt instruments. The amounts that are recognised in profit or loss are the same as the amounts that would have been recognised in profit or loss if these debt instruments had been measured at amortised cost. When these debt instruments are derecognised, the cumulative gains or losses previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss.

(iii) Equity instrument designated as at FVTOCI

Investment in equity instrument at FVTOCI is subsequently measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve; and are not subject to impairment assessment. The cumulative gain or loss will not be reclassified to profit or loss on disposal of the equity investments, and will be transferred to retained profits.

Dividends from this investment in equity instrument are recognised in profit or loss when the Group's right to receive the dividends is established, unless the dividends clearly represent a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Dividends are included in the "other income" line item in profit or loss.

(n) Financial instruments (continued)

Impairment of financial assets and contract assets

The Group performs impairment assessment under expected credit loss ("ECL") model on financial assets (including debt instruments at FVTOCI, trade and other receivables, unbilled revenue and bank balances and deposits) and other items (including contract assets and lease receivables) which are subject to impairment under HKFRS 9. The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL represents the ECL that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of the relevant instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECL represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date. Assessment are done based on the Group's historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current conditions at the reporting date as well as the forecast of future conditions.

The Group always recognises lifetime ECL for trade receivables, contract assets and unbilled revenue and lease receivables. The ECL on these assets are assessed individually for debtors with significant balances or collectively using a provision matrix with appropriate groupings.

For all other instruments, the Group measures the loss allowance equal to 12-month ECL, unless when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increases in the likelihood or risk of a default occurring since initial recognition.

(i) Significant increase in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition. In making this assessment, the Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly:

- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the financial instrument's external (if available) or internal credit rating;
- significant deterioration in external market indicators of credit risk, e.g. a significant increase in the credit spread, the credit default swap prices for the debtor;
- existing or forecast adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations;
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor;
- an actual or expected significant adverse change in the regulatory, economic, or technological environment of the debtor that results in a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations.

Irrespective of the outcome of the above assessment, the Group presumes that the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due, unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information that demonstrates otherwise.

(n) Financial instruments (continued)

Despite the foregoing, the Group assumes that the credit risk on a debt instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition if the debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk at the reporting date. A debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk if i) it has a low risk of default, ii) the borrower has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term and iii) adverse changes in economic and business conditions in the longer term may, but will not necessarily, reduce the ability of the borrower to fulfil its contractual cash flow obligations. The Group considers a debt instrument to have low credit risk when it has an internal or external credit rating of 'investment grade' as per globally understood definitions.

The Group regularly monitors the effectiveness of the criteria used to identify whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk and revises them as appropriate to ensure that the criteria are capable of identifying significant increase in credit risk before the amount becomes past due.

(ii) Definition of default

For internal credit risk management, the Group considers an event of default occurs when information developed internally or obtained from external sources indicates that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors, including the Group, in full (without taking into account any collaterals held by the Group).

Irrespective of the above, the Group considers that default has occurred when a financial asset is more than 90 days past due unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information to demonstrate that a more lagging default criterion is more appropriate.

(iii) Credit-impaired financial assets

A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- (a) significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;
- (b) a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;
- (c) the lender(s) of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider;
- (d) it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation; or
- (e) the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties.

(iv) Write-off policy

The Group writes off a financial asset when there is information indicating that the counterparty is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery, for example, when the counterparty has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings, or in the case of trade receivables, when the amounts are over two years past due, whichever occurs sooner. Financial assets written off may still be subject to enforcement activities under the Group's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event. Any subsequent recoveries are recognised in profit or loss.

(n) Financial instruments (continued)

(v) Measurement and recognition of ECL

The measurement of ECL is a function of the probability of default, loss given default (i.e. the magnitude of the loss if there is a default) and the exposure at default. The assessment of the probability of default and loss given default is based on historical data adjusted by forward-looking information. Estimation of ECL reflects an unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights.

Generally, the ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at the effective interest rate determined at initial recognition. For a lease receivable, the cash flows used for determining the ECL is consistent with the cash flows used in measuring the lease receivable in accordance with HKFRS 16 (since 1 July 2019) or HKAS 17 (prior to 1 July 2019).

Where ECL is measured on a collective basis or cater for cases where evidence at the individual instrument level may not yet be available, the financial instruments are grouped on the following basis:

- Nature of financial instruments (i.e. the Group's trade and other receivables are each assessed as a separate group);
- Past-due status;
- Nature, size and industry of debtors; and
- External credit ratings where available.

The grouping is regularly reviewed by management to ensure the constituents of each group continue to share similar credit risk characteristics.

Interest income is calculated based on the gross carrying amount of the financial asset unless the financial asset is credit-impaired, in which case interest income is calculated based on amortised cost of the financial asset.

Except for investments in debt instruments that are measured at FVTOCI, the Group recognises an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss for all financial instruments by adjusting their carrying amount, with the exception of trade receivables, contract assets and unbilled revenue where the corresponding adjustment is recognised through a loss allowance account. For investments in debt instruments that are measured at FVTOCI, the loss allowance is recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve without reducing the carrying amount of these debt instruments. Such amount represents the change in the investments revaluation reserve in relation to accumulated loss allowance.

(n) Financial instruments (continued)

Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. If the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Group recognises its retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay. If the Group retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Group continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralised borrowing for the proceeds received.

On derecognition of a financial asset measured at amortised cost, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognised in profit or loss.

On derecognition of an investment in a debt instrument classified as at FVTOCI, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve is reclassified to profit or loss.

On derecognition of an investment in equity instrument which the Group has elected on initial recognition to measure at FVTOCI, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve is not reclassified to profit or loss, but is transferred to retained profits.

(ii) Financial liabilities and equity

Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Company after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Company are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Repurchase of the Company's own equity instruments is recognised and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost

Financial liabilities (including trade and other payables, bank borrowings and shareholder's loan) are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Group derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when the Group's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss.

(o) Equity-settled share-based payment transactions

The fair value of services received determined by reference to the fair value of share options granted at the grant date is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period with a corresponding increase in equity (share option reserve).

At the end of each reporting period, the Group revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to ultimately vest. The impact of the revision of the original estimates during the vesting period, if any, is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss with a corresponding adjustment to share option reserve.

At the time when the share options are exercised, the amount previously recognised in share-based payment transactions reserve will be transferred to share premium. When the share options are forfeited after the vesting date, the amount previously recognised in share-based payment transactions reserve will be transferred to retained profits.

(p) Impairment on property, plant and equipment (including right-of-use assets)

At the end of each reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its property, plant and equipment (including right-of-use assets) to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any.

The recoverable amount of property, plant and equipment (including right-of-use assets) are estimated individually, when it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount individually, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

In testing a cash-generating unit for impairment, corporate assets are allocated to the relevant cash-generating unit, when a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be established, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be established. The recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit or group of cash-generating units to which the corporate asset belongs, and is compared with the carrying amount of the relevant cash-generating unit or group of cash-generating units.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset (or a cash-generating unit) for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. For corporate assets or portion of corporate assets which cannot be allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis to a cash-generating unit, the Group compares the carrying amount of a group of cash-generating units, including the carrying amounts of the corporate assets or portion of corporate assets allocated to that group of cash-generating units, with the recoverable amount of the group of cash-generating units. In allocating the impairment loss, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill (if applicable) and then to the other assets on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit or the group of cash-generating units. The carrying amount of an asset is not reduced below the highest of its fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable), its value in use (if determinable) and zero. The amount of the impairment loss that would otherwise have been allocated to the asset is allocated pro rata to the other assets of the unit or the group of cash-generating units. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in the consolidated statement of profit or loss.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit or a group of cash-generating units) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or a cash-generating unit or a group of cash-generating units) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

5. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGMENTS AND ESTIMATIONS

In the application of the Group's accounting policies, the management of the Company is required to make judgments, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and assumptions that have significant effect on the amounts of assets is discussed below:

Capitalisation and measurement of costs of property, plant and equipment

The Group's properties in the course of construction for production, supply or administrative purposes (i.e. construction in progress) are carried at costs, less any recognised impairment loss. Costs include construction costs, professional fees, and, for qualifying assets, the borrowing cost capitalised.

The management has assessed the costs whether it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the items will flow to the Group in accordance with HKAS 16. The management has determined the cessation and suspension of the capitalisation of borrowing costs based on the progress and status of the construction works and performed the calculations of borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation into construction in progress with reference to HKAS 23 "Borrowing Costs".

The calculation of the basic and diluted earnings per share from continuing and discontinued operations attributable to owners of the Company is based on the following data:

	2020 HK$'000	2019 HK$'000
Earnings for the purposes of basic and diluted earnings per share	783,249	865,194

	2020 Number of shares	2019 Number of shares

For the purposes of basic and diluted earnings per share, the weighted average number of ordinary shares is calculated after taking into account the effect of the issuance of bonus shares (with a Convertible Note alternative) in November 2010. Details of the issuance of bonus shares are set out in note 27.

The computation of diluted earnings per share does not assume the exercise of certain Company's share options because the exercise price of those share options was higher than the average market price for shares for the years ended 30 June 2020 and 2019. Save as the share options mentioned above, there were no other dilutive potential ordinary shares in existence during the years ended 30 June 2020 and 2019.

Profit attributable to owners of the Company as shown in the consolidated statement of profit or loss	783,249	865,194
Less: increase in fair value of investment properties (note 29)	(74,252)	(195,000)

Increase in fair value recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss (note 29)	74,252
Disposal of subsidiaries (note 29)	(1,843,252)
At 30 June 2020	–

The fair value of the Group's investment properties, which were located in Hong Kong, as at 6 November 2019 (date of disposal) has been arrived at based on total cash consideration of disposal of subsidiaries by the directors of the Company with reference to a valuation on market value basis carried out by Cushman & Wakefield Limited, independent qualified professional surveyors not connected with the Group. Details of the disposal of subsidiaries are set out in note 29.

The fair value of the Group's investment properties, which are located in Hong Kong, at 30 June 2019 had been determined with reference to a valuation on market value basis carried out by Cushman & Wakefield Limited, independent qualified professional surveyors not connected with the Group. The valuation was arrived at by reference to market evidence of recent transaction prices for similar properties. The key input used in valuing the Group's investment properties was the market price per square foot, using direct comparison approach and taking into account of the adjustments on the differences in the nature, location and condition, as well as the highest and best use of the properties, which ranged from HK$7,300 to HK$11,600. The increase in the market price per square foot would result in an increase in fair value of the investment properties, and vice versa.

All of the fair value measurements of the Group's investment properties were categorised into Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy. Level 3 fair value measurements are those derived from valuation techniques in which unobservable inputs are used.

All of the Group's property interests that were held under operating leases to earn rentals or for capital appreciation purposes were measured using the fair value model and were classified and accounted for as investment properties.

Lease terms are negotiated on an individual basis and contain a wide range of different terms and conditions. In determining the lease term and assessing the length of the non-cancellable period, the Group applies the definition of a contract and determines the period for which the contract is enforceable.

During the year, the Group derecognised the right-of-use assets which the Group leased them from the SHKP Group of HK$142,610,000 after acquisition of leased properties through acquisition of a subsidiary from the SHKP Group. Details of the acquisition of the subsidiary are set out in note 28(a).

(d) Compensation of key management personnel

The directors' emoluments set out in note 11 represent the compensation paid/payable to the key management personnel.

The remuneration of key management personnel is reviewed by the remuneration committee having regard to the performance of individuals and market trends.

32. CAPITAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Group manages its capital to ensure that entities in the Group will be able to continue as a going concern while maximising the return to shareholders of the Company through the optimisation of debt and equity balances. The Group's overall strategy remains unchanged from the prior year.

The capital structure of the Group mainly consists of net debt, which includes the bank borrowings and shareholder's loan disclosed in notes 25 and 26, respectively, net of cash and cash equivalents, and equity attributable to owners of the Company, comprising share capital and reserves.

The Company's management reviews the capital structure regularly. As part of this review, management considers the cost of capital and risks associated with each class of capital. Based on management's recommendations, the Group will balance its overall capital structure.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

33. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

(a) Categories of financial instruments at the end of the reporting period were as follows:

	2020 HK$'000	2019 HK$'000
Financial assets
Amortised cost	672,429	747,896
Debt instrument at FVTOCI	–	51,089
Equity instrument at FVTOCI	3,710	3,710
Financial liabilities
Amortised cost	10,053,876	8,692,362

(b) Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Group's major financial instruments include trade and other receivables, unbilled revenue, bank balances and deposits, debt instrument at FVTOCI, equity instrument at FVTOCI, trade and other payables, bank borrowings, shareholder's loan and lease liabilities. The risks associated with these financial instruments include market risk (currency risk and interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The policies on how to mitigate these risks are set out below. Management manages and monitors these exposures to ensure appropriate measures are implemented on a timely and effective manner.

Market risk

Currency risk

The Group has foreign currency bank balances and deposits, trade and other receivables, trade and other payables and debt instrument at FVTOCI, which expose the Group to foreign currency risk. Management manages foreign exchange exposure by closely monitoring the movement of foreign currency rate.

The carrying amounts of the Group's material foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities at the end of the reporting period are as follows:

	2020 HK$'000	2019 HK$'000
Assets
US$
– Debt instrument at FVTOCI	–	51,089
– Trade and other receivables	5,863	2,769
– Bank balances and deposits	157,655	292,253
	163,518	346,111
Liabilities
US$
– Trade and other payables	5,371	5,847

As most of the Group's foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities are denominated in US$ and HK$ is pegged to the US$ under the Linked Exchange Rate System, the Group's foreign currency risk exposure is not considered to be significant.

33. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)

(b) Financial risk management objectives and policies (continued)

Interest rate risk

The Group is exposed to fair value interest rate risk in relation to bank deposits, fixed-rate debt securities (see note 16 for details of these debt securities), fixed-rate shareholder's loan (see note 26 for details of the shareholder's loan) and lease liabilities.

The Group is exposed to cash flow interest rate risk in relation to the impacts of rate changes on interest-bearing bank balances (see note 20 for details of bank balances and deposits) and interest-bearing bank borrowings (see note 25 for details of bank borrowings).

The Group's exposure to (i) interest rates on bank balances is considered insignificant and; (ii) the interest rate on financial liabilities is shown in the liquidity risk management section of this note. The Group's cash flow interest rate risk in relation to variable-rate bank borrowings is mainly concentrated on the fluctuation of Hong Kong Interbank Offered Rate.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analysis below has been determined based on the exposure to interest rates for financial instruments at the end of the reporting period. For variable-rate bank borrowings, the analysis is prepared assuming the amount of liability outstanding at the end of the reporting period was outstanding for the whole year. A 25 basis points (2019: 25 basis points) increase or decrease represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If interest rates had been 25 basis points (2019: 25 basis points) higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's interest on bank borrowings would increase/decrease by approximately HK$14,675,000 (2019: HK$11,956,000) and the profit after taxation would decrease/increase by approximately HK$2,196,000 (2019: HK$2,230,000) for the year ended 30 June 2020, after taking into effect of capitalisation of borrowing costs. This is mainly attributable to the Group's exposure to interest rates on its variable-rate bank borrowings.

Credit risk and impairment assessment

The Group's maximum exposure to credit risk which will cause a financial loss to the Group due to failure to discharge an obligation by the counterparties is arising from the carrying amount of the respective recognised financial assets as stated in the consolidated statement of financial position.

Trade receivables

In order to minimise the credit risk, management of the Group has formulated policies for determination of credit approvals and other monitoring procedures to ensure that follow-up action is taken to recover overdue debts. The Group reviews the recoverable amount of the individual trade debt at the end of the reporting period to ensure that adequate impairment losses are made for irrecoverable amounts. In addition, the Group performs impairment assessment under ECL model on trade balances individually or based on provision matrix. In this regard, the directors of the Company consider that the Group's credit risk is significantly reduced.

33. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)

(b) Financial risk management objectives and policies (continued)

Bank balances and deposits

The credit risk on the Group's bank balances and deposits is limited because the counterparties are banks with high credit ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies.

The Group does not have significant concentration of credit risk. Trade receivables consist of a number of customers and spread across diverse industries.

The Group's internal credit risk grading assessment comprises the following categories.

Internal credit rating	Description	Trade receivables and contract assets	Other financial assets
Group A	The counterparties are multinational companies or listed companies which have a low risk of the default through information developed internally	Lifetime ECL – not credit-impaired	12-month ECL
Group B	The counterparties are unlisted entities or small to medium entities which have a medium risk of the default through information developed internally	Lifetime ECL – not credit-impaired	12-month ECL
Group C	There have been significant increases in credit risk since initial recognition through information developed internally	Lifetime ECL – not credit-impaired	Lifetime ECL – not credit-impaired
Group D	There is evidence indicating the asset is credit-impaired	Lifetime ECL – credit-impaired	Lifetime ECL – credit-impaired
Group E	There is evidence indicating that the debtor is in severe financial difficulty and the Group has no realistic prospect of recovery	Amount is written off	Amount is written off

Notes:

- (i) For trade receivables, contract assets and unbilled revenue, the Group has applied simplified approach in HKFRS 9 to measure loss allowance at lifetime ECL. Except for debtors with significant outstanding balances or credit-impaired, the Group determines the ECL on these items by using a provision matrix, grouped by internal credit rating based on historical repayment record and reputation.
- (ii) For the purpose of internal credit risk management, the Group uses past due information to assess whether the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition. No other receivables and deposits paid are more than 30 days past due. Based on assessment by the management of the Group, the ECL for other receivables and deposits paid is not material.

(c) Fair values

The fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities are determined as follows:

- the fair values of financial assets with standard terms and conditions and traded on active liquid markets are determined with reference to quoted market bid prices; and
- the fair values of other financial assets and financial liabilities are determined in accordance with generally accepted pricing models based on discounted cash flow analysis.

The directors consider that the carrying amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded at amortised costs in the consolidated financial statements approximate to their fair values.

Fair value measurement recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position

The Group's financial instruments that are measured subsequent to initial recognition at fair value, are categorised as Level 1 to 3 fair value measurements based on the degree to which the fair value is observable.

	2020 HK$'000	2019 HK$'000
Debt securities investments (Level 1)	–	51,089
Unlisted equity instrument (Level 3)	3,710	3,710

Fair value of the listed debt instrument had been determined by reference to bid prices quoted in active markets.

Fair value of the unlisted equity investment has been determined by dividend discount model that are not based on observable market data.

There was no transfer of financial assets and financial liabilities between fair value hierarchy classifications during the years ended 30 June 2020 and 2019.
